These papers are records which deal with a specific Lot and are from the earliest days of Sidney Township up to the mid 1800s. These records are considered among the most useful documentation available to the genealogist/family historian. Township Papers are documented records relative to a specific Lot and are, therefore, indexed by Township, then by Concession and finally by the number of the Lot. The records found in these collections may contain correspondence about the lot, land petitions, transfer of title, patents etc. The majority of this material predates the early census records and from that perspective is invaluable to the researcher. Unfortunately many researchers have no idea of where their ancestors live in the Townships and this required a page by page search of the Township Papers and all too frequently the search yielded no information.

One reference to determine an early settler's residence are early Militia lists. Such Lists are available at the Belleville Corby Library and the OGS Quinte Branch Library in Ameliasburgh.

This Index in alpha sequence makes the search easier as names mentioned in the Township Papers, be they the subject of the document, or names referred to in the document eg. witnesses etc. All are included in the Index. The identified page number is usually the first page on which the name occurs; researchers would be well advised to look on subsequent pages for further documents or references regarding the name or their ancestor's property.
