CENTENNIAL SECONDARY SCHOOL

BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO

IN MEMORY OF

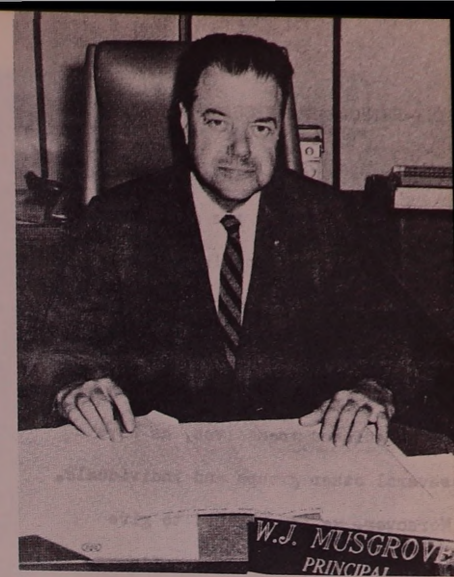

The Late Mrs. Kay Bailey

Although Mrs. Bailey was not with us long at Centennial, she will be long remembered as an excellent and dedicated teacher. She taught at Stirling High School for 30 years before coming to Centennial.

Mrs. Bailey graduated from Victoria College and had travelled extensively through Europe, especially France. In loving France, and its language, she taught the language to many students over the past 30 years.

We of Centennial not knowing her very long are saddened for the great loss of a wonderful woman.

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

It is fashionable today to speak of the rapid developments in science and to project these developments into the future. Sometimes one is tempted to wonder when the machine will take over completely from man.

A yearbook such as this with its infinite sentimental for the ordinary human being. This book becomes more valuable as the years go by for the high points of enjoyment are accented as the memory of the trials and disappointments fade.

May I wish all of you, particularly those who are not returning a happy and profitable future.

... W.J. Musgrove,

Principal.

VICE-PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

This has been a year of change and achievement for Centennial. Our school population has doubled in size and we have welcomed many of the former students and teachers of the Stirling - Rawdon District High School. These new members of the school community have made a real contribution.

We look back on 1968-69 as an eventful year. Academically, our school moved further towards student involvement, individual timetabling, and subject promotion. Student Parliament, assisted by the Agriculture Students, took the lead in beautifying the school grounds by sponsoring the tree-planting ceremonies. The Vermilyea Road Race was inaugurated and Centennial students excelled in many athletic activities. Our talented young musicians and actors put on varied and well-received Christmas and Spring programs. Display Night and School Spirit Week were two highlights of the last term. More than thirty issues of the Centurion were published, a record of which we all can be proud.

This yearbook is another of the lasting achievements of the students of Centennial. To those who worked so hard and so well to produce this book -- congratulations. To those students and staff members whose efforts helped to make this a successful and rewarding year -- many thanks. And to those graduates who have finished their years at Centennial -- best wishes.

... G.E. Boyce
Vice-Principal

DRIVER EDUCATION

This year Centennial joined the ever increasing number of schools in the Province of Ontario in offering a programme in Driver Education to its students.

The purpose of the driver education course is not so much to teach a student how to drive but how to drive safely. The maximum number of students possible took the course and we are proud to say that all those who completed the course passed.

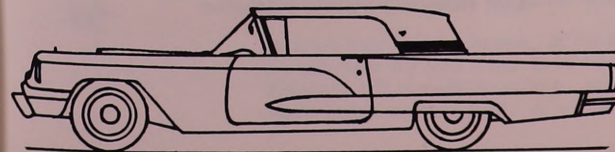

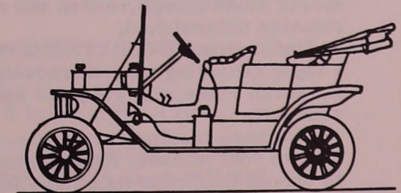

This year cars were supplied by Stevenson Ford Sales of Belleville, and Elliot Motors Ltd. Both cars were 1969 models, and were dual equipped for safty.

The students who took the course this year all seem to feel it was time well spent.

We hope that those of you intending to get driver's permits in the future will also take the course for your own safety and for the safety of the rest of us. It will also save you money on car insurance in case you are interested.

Remember, your ability to drive safely will help to determine how long you are going to live, and probably how long others, some of whom are dear to you, will live also.

... Mr. Emmerson

1968 - 1969. A Time of progress? A time of spirit? But probably most of all, a time of accomplishment? Now is the time for evaluation of these questions, for Centennial is in a constant state of motion, and we must now decide what our place was in the Student Body. On looking back you may remember the good, the bad, the in-between and possibly the lasting impression you left on your locker and wonder if they can ever repair it.

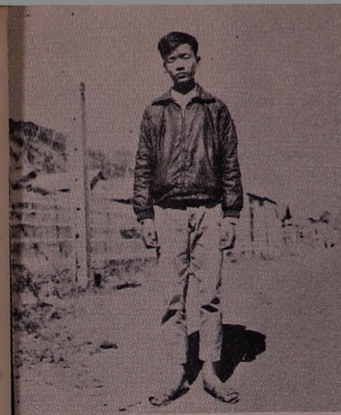

We have all been part of a new upbeat force sweeping Belleville; a force sit that has made all the other schools up and say, "Centennial's the school to beat, now."

We are only three years old, and have a lot to learn but this hasn't stopped us from "liberating" a great number of championships from our "elders" and threatening many others. Our renown doesn't rest on sports alone though, for in the community the name of Centennial remains untarnished.

Under-lying EVERYTHING that happens on campus is "School-Spirit", a topic receiving varied amounts of interest, but whatever the amount, the torch rests with you, the individual and if you drop it you burn only yourself.

To those leaving our hallowed halls I offer the best of wishes, to be true to your school, fight for her, honour her, do your utmost for her, to uphold the proud name of CENTENNIAL.

In a society of wealth, luxury, and plenty, thoughts of malnutrition, poverty, filth and agonizing death tend to be all too remote.

As was the case the year before last, Centennial again undertook to bring the crusade for those less fortunate than ourselves a little closer to the heart this year.

People with little or no insight into world affairs whine of our own poverty-stricken folk here in Canada. But there is one great difference between Canada and a place like Indonesia; here we have the freedom and opportunity to better ourselves. Granted the struggle may be uphill and difficult but at least it exists. For a child stranded in the wilderness of Tibet, as is "our" child, the opportunity must come to him for terrain, religion, tradition and hypocrisy bind him to an ancient culture.

This, then, is our cause. If we flug or fail world unity can never be attained and organizations such as CUSO must fight on in futility.

... Tim Howard (Prime Minister)

FISH - Symbol and Song

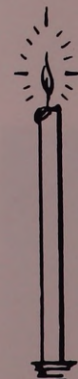

Give a man a fish and you feed him for a day,
Tomorrow he'll be hungry in the same old way
Teach him how to fish and you feed him for his life
Tomorrow he'll be feeding his children and his wife.

Give a man a loaf, a little piece of bread
Tomorrow he'll be hungry, the next he may be dead.
Teach him how to sow, to plant the ground with corn
Make him glad, not sorry, for the day that he was born.

Men upon this earth were not born to die in grief,
Yet hungry everywhere are crying for relief.
Talent, time or treasure is what we need of you
Come forth you noble people--don't leave it for a few.

The man of whom I sing hears his children's hungry cry
He sees his empty hands, and he knows that some will die
Give this man your aid--help his children grow
The man of whom I sing, he only want to know.

A man can build a home, if he knows what to do
Teach him all you can, it is really up to you
Educate all people to write, and count, and read
Knowledge is survival, it's really all they need.

YEARBOOK

BOTTOM ROW, Left to Right: D. Lundburg, M. Michaud, B. Tweedy, B. Howe, S. Gibson, F. Ellis, Editor; S. Simpson, L. Wills, C. Penley, B. Wallace.
 MIDDLE ROW: Mr. Bradley, Miss Neill, J. Wills, J. Tobin, H. McMurter, P. Carruthers, R. Gibson, A. Tebworth, H. Ackerman, D. Aide, B. McCorquodale, Mr. Baites, Mrs. Camm, Mr. Camm.
 TOP ROW: R. McCoy, D. Lawrence, C. Coates, K. Barr, R. Fell, E. Scott, S. Sedore, N. Kellar, J. Bailey, B. Ketcheson, V. Hie, B. Howe.

This year with the co-operation of Mr. Musgrove we were able to acquire the services of the Inter-Collegiate Press to publish this year's Yearbook.

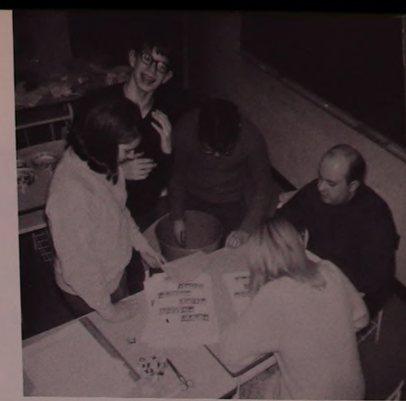

If you wish to have a good yearbook next year you should take part in helping your yearbook staff. By taking pictures of the school events and help the Editor to arrange the pictures on the sheets, which end up as pages of your yearbook. Not only pictures make a yearbook, literary items also help to make your yearbook, poems, shortstories and jokes are needed to make up schools scrapbook of the year.

We need you, as much as you need us to get your yearbook out each year. So come out of your hiding places around the school and help in the future of your yearbook.

C. S. S. CONCERT BAND

The Centennial Secondary School Concert Band has completed its third season. Each year the band has increased in size, number of performances and we feel the quality of the music has improved from the first performance on February 9, 1967, when the school was officially opened. The music we are playing has certainly become much more difficult.

The 1968-69 Concert Band consisted of 55 members, the bulk of which came from grades 11 & 12.

Band rehearsals were held every Monday evening from 3:30 - 5:30, and as performances neared we added extra practices at 8:30 A.M.

The performances this year began with the Awards Day programme, and then the Remembrance Day service. During the month of December we put together our first annual "Evening of Christmas Entertainment" which was a complete sell-out. This show was also performed for the grades 6, 7, & 8's of the feeder schools in the area.

The next big event for the band was the first annual Belleville Rotary Music Festival. The band had its first taste of open competition and placed second in the band competition and first among the bands from the Hastings County System. A number of students from the band competed in the solo classes at the Belleville Festival also.

Peterborough Kiwanis Festival was the next event. Here, we met very stiff competition in the band and solo classes. The results were not as good but the experience gained and the ideas learned were much more rewarding than at Belleville.

By the time, we had come to the end of March. This left us only a month to put together our "Second Annual Evening of Spring Entertainment". This year we performed the spring show for two nights with good crowds both evenings and a packed house of Elementary school students at an afternoon performance.

In mid May the band went on a little concert tour and played two shows, one at Courthouse Secondary School at the edge of Oshawa and the other at Bowmanville High School.

We wrapped up the year with a chicken Bar-B-Q at the Rows in Frankford where some people ate chicken until we thought they would sprout feathers.

Next year we hope to continue playing in assembly alternating with the junior band. It is hoped that perhaps the bands will be able to assist student groups in putting on assembly programmes.

We hope next year to perform on the same occasions we did this year, and perhaps add a few more. We understand there is something big in the wind for next spring in addition to the regular spring concert.

We would like to thank all those students and staff who have supported the band this year and we hope you will continue supporting us in the future.

...Mr. Emmerson

"DEAR DIARY"

Tuesday,
Dear Diary:

I find working in the "big city" is different from back home. I've found some friends at work, all very nice, but very "cityish".

Thursday,
Dear Diary:

There was an accident outside our apartment this morning. An old man was found dead, but his face was terror--stricken apparently. A yellowish cat was sitting beside the body and I have seen it since around the area. If I see it again I'll take it back to the farm if I go home on the weekend. One more cat shouldn't make any difference there.

Saturday,
Dear Diary:

It's good to be back home again. The kids will not accept the cat at all. I will admit, it has a very strange air about it and its presence is always very eerie and noticeably felt. It will probably end up back in the city with me.

Dad isn't looking well, although Mom says he's just tired. The kids are fine.

Tuesday,
Dear Diary:

I have named the cat "Pools", after those enormous eyes. Pools has moved in with me completely. Certainly he (I will call it - he) is extraordinary. His eyes, as his name suggests are large yellow pools, which hold you in fascination.

Thursday,
Dear Diary:

Pools has begun to frighten me. Tonight as he sat in my lap his eyes grew until I thought they would devour me. I seemed to be floating in darkness and all I could hear was the steady thump of his heart and the continuous grating of his purr. I'm afraid I'll have to get rid of him because I've never experienced this sensation before. He scares me. His strangeness is unbelievably human.

I'm bringing one of the girls home with me tomorrow for dinner.

Friday,
Dear Diary:

I brought Jennifer home for supper. Pools watched her with his sly eyes until she was seated and then he leaped up and attacked her! Poor Jen was terrified. That cat will have to go, yet there is something which keeps me from "booting" him out. I can't let him go. He has become my friend.

Monday,
Dear Diary:

Pools has done nothing but eye me with those large yellow eyes ever since I've come home. He has put me in some kind of a trance; he's got everything from me, food, shelter, and I feel so weary. He is watching me now with those eyes, God, help me. He is coming closer yet I can't move. Is he hungry? No, he's just been fed.

KARLO'S CHRISTMAS

Karlo pulled himself out of the hatch, of the bomb shelter and looked about him. Everywhere were destruction and rubble being covered by the new fallen snow. He had been in the shelter three weeks since December fourth, the day they dropped the bomb. He could remember that day well—the look on his mother's face, the smell of burning flesh, his father's terrified voice as he shoved him into the shelter, and then the deathly silence and waiting till the time lock on the shelter opened the hatch. It was Christmas day and there was nobody to be seen for miles over the heaps of atomic debris. Karlo picked up a jagged piece of metal and thought about his family and how he had waited for Christmas. Then he screamed at the top of his voice cutting the silence, "Damn you people! Damn you bomb! Damn you world!" and ran the metal through his stomach.

THE FUTURE

The sea is like life,
Some days it is calm,
And other days it is rough and uneasy,
The rocks and loose pieces of wood
Symbolize the people,
Being tossed and thrown about,
By the overpowering sea.
Like currents,
There is a constant struggle for power,
And the shore line
Being torn away,
By the circulating water,
But SOME day,
I know...
The waters will be still,
And a pleasant love and warmth
Will be throughout.
- There will be peace.
